

A Letter From Our Leadership

Fun is a core value at Infoblox. While building a global business that is a leader in core network solutions, our goal is to create a culture that values people as a priority. For more than 20 years, our company has designed and implemented innovative technology solutions to meet the needs of our customers worldwide. The speed of technology advancements has meant we be fast to market with solutions, and it's the talent of our people that makes that possible.

Bloxers, as we call our colleagues, are smart, driven, and kind people who care not only about what we do, but how we do it. We gain strength from our shared efforts, and we value having an ethical and just company. We strive to create a culture of belonging where people feel valued, voices are heard, and everyone can fulfill their career potential. There are no problems too hard for Bloxers to solve when we work together.

As the Chief Human Resources Officer, I am proud of our people. From our employee resource groups, to global cross-functional teams, to our career enrichment programs, our people make the seemingly impossible possible. During the COVID-19 global pandemic, like many others, we were challenged to reimagine our business processes. In true Bloxer spirit, we not only met the challenge, but together we delivered record business results. Our success is only possible because our people believe in our mission, and equally, we believe in our people. And, we always manage to add a little fun along the way!

Carolyn Gracey
Chief Human Resources Officer
SVP, People and Places

